GIVE SOMEONE a REASON to SMILE

Each human is one of a kind hence exceptional. We all cherish our own unique and magical traditions which bring us closer to one another. What we, all of us, have in common is we like to both give and receive presents.

When selecting products for our collection we are driven by one simple question" Will this gift bring a smile to the face of the person who gets it?" We look around at the world which surrounds us, new trends and changing people's needs. We discuss functions, usefulness and colours. We pick products that are more environmentally friendly. We keep on testing, collect opinions from our colleagues, friends and customers.

If you want to see a smile on other people's faces just look in our catalog.

Wood has been a vital part of human life since the very beginning. Forests have been the source of firewood and were used to make primary tools and arms.

Italian Venice situated on 118 swampy Adriatic islets was built using millions of oak, larch and elm poles driven into the sea bottom.

Madeira, island well-known as the birthplace of Cristiano Ronaldo has been named by its discoverers (João Gonçalves Zarco and Tristão Vaz Teixeira) Ilha Madeira which means The Wood Island.

wood

Its origin, the way it is obtained and physical properties make wood the most environmental friendly big-scale production raw material. Forests are one of the most vital foundations of ecological safety and our future existence.

FSC® or Forest Stewardship Council® is the organization which promotes responsible management of world's forests. It certifies forests and all kinds of wood and paper products.

If you buy a FSC product you may be sure that it has been made using wood from a forest where more trees are planted than cut.

glass

It's one of the most environment-friendly materials. It's 100% recyclable with no limit set to it. As soon as collected it's turned in glass cullet which is the base for making new products.

However it should be borne in mind that when unbroken and unprocessed glass is mixed with other nonsegregated refuse it becomes an ecological hazard.

Glass decay time is more than 4000 years, which is confirmed by glass bead finds dated back to 2000 B.C. Some experts claim that glass never decays which brings us to the conclusion how vital is its proper segregation and further multiple processing.

All mugs have been tested for thermal insulation. The tests were carried out as follows:
1. Ambient temperature was in accordance with standard use conditions: 20°C (± 1°C).
2. The tests proper have been preceded by filling a mug with boiling water and then waiting 5 minutes.
3. Subsequently the emptied mug was filled with boiling water and tightly closed.
4. The thermal data indicates how much time it takes for the liquid temperature to go down to 40°C.

umbrellas

First umbrellas were used in ancient Egypt ar. 4000 B.C. Umbrellas made from oily paper appeared in China ar. 400 A.D. and were made popular in Europe thanks to Greeks. They were originaly meant to protect against sunshine. The first auto umbrella was designed by Hans Haupt in 1910 and named Knirps.

Biodegradables are in other words products that decay while composting and do not produce any toxic substances.

Such products are as a rule made from polymers that occur in nature just as for example a corn starch bag. This bag looks very much like a standard polybag, but the main difference is that this very bag when dug in the ground will decay within a week or two same as a carrot or beetroot while a polybag decay time is 500 years.
